

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE AREAS

The Waterloo Community School District is divided into geographic attendance areas for each high school, middle school and elementary school. The boundary line for each of these areas shall be clearly defined. The Board of Education may change boundary lines as deemed necessary.

Pupils living within these geographic attendance areas will attend the schools designated for their particular area. Any exception to this policy must be approved by the Executive Director of Student & At-Risk Services in accordance with administrative regulations covering such cases.

The Executive Director of Student & At-Risk Services shall have the right to determine the attendance center of any pupil. Appeals are reviewed by the Superintendent, and all decisions are final.
